In 1859 we find that Lewis Ridenour was the Director of the School in District 5, which was called the Crabill School. Not sure what it was called in Lewis's day. It was probably a small log cabin in 1859.

The 1885 Atlas map of Monroe Township, Allen County, Indiana, shows that at that time land (100 acres) in Section 30 in the South West Quarter was still in L. Ridenour's name. Also an adjoining 100 acres were in the name of A.P. Ridenour. Lewis had a son named Adam P. Ridenour. A part of the estate of Lewis Ridenour went to Grandaughter Lydia Shaffer Brown. It was to be given then after her death to her 3 children, Ivan, Guy, and Ferol Brown. It never got into their hands. It was said that "Newt Brown" gambled it away. The following is a time line of the Ridenours and the following down of that property:

Timeline of the property of the Ridenours:

1851 Lewis and Esther came to Indiana and bought 240 acres, prob. in Sec. 33
Also bought some in Sec. 28 (Sec. 33 was prob. their homestead)
Property that interests us is in Sec. 30 and may or may not have been a Place where Lewis and Esther ever lived.

1874 Dau., Maggie Ridenour married Valentine L. Shaffer (date unknown)
1875 (July 24), Lydia Shaffer, their daughter was born
1875 (July 31), "Maggie" mother of Lydia died
1879 Lewis Ridenour, father of "Maggie", grandfather of Lydia, died
1879 Lewis Ridenour leaves property to granddaughter, Lydia Shaffer (60 acres)
0000 Valentine Shaffer remarries, Lydia is raised by 2nd wife with 2nd family
1885 Map shows 100 acres belonging to L. Ridenour just south of the Brown farm
1885 Map shows A. P. Ridenour (son of Lewis) owns 107 acres in same section
1885 Map show J. H. Brown (father of Newt) owns 99.5 acres just north of Ridenour's 1885 Map shows a house on the L. Ridenour farm just where current house is 1896 Lydia marries Newt Brown
1906 Ivan Brown is born
1908 Guy Brown is born
1910 Ferrol Brown is born
1911 Lydia (Shaffer) Brown dies
1915 Newt Brown marries Ora Plumley
1915/1919 to about 1933/38 Newt & Ora lived in house on Ridenour farm, Sec. 30
I am guessing 1933/38 as I remember being in that house when they lived there
Know that by the time Dottie died in 1938 they had moved from there. I Remember both houses.
1929-31 The Ridenour relatives come to dad to ask him to do something about retrieving the property for the 3 Brown children. He never did. Not sure if he couldn't do anything or if he just didn't want to make waves. Anyway they never got to claim any of the Ridenour property that had been given to their mother from Grandpa Ridenour's will. Perhaps there was nothing he could do. Would be interesting to have a look at the abstract!!

The story is that the property was lost by gambling by Newt. Not sure how he could gamble away something that was not his, but do not know the way things were done in those days. The gambling is known to be true from the Klinkers and also from the Marquart family.

From Pat who is the daughter of Mary Jane: "Reading your report, I may be able to answer one question....you weren't sure whether Grandpa Brown and Orah owned the farm. They did. In fact, he owned it with his first wife. When the depression hit, he had to sell the farm. He divided the proceeds with his three children from his first wife. This information is from my mom."

This does not match with what was told to me by my own mother who would have been the co-receiver of any inheritance that was given to dad. Mom was the one who took care of the money in our family. Dad never received a penny from his father from any of the land. Mom said Grandpa Newt gambled it away and lost the farm. Also then the 3 children were to have the inheritance left to them by the Ridenour/Shaffer family and that also was lost and they did not ever receive it. There were 60 acres in that inheritance and each was to have 20. So perhaps the real truth was never told to the children. Orah perhaps wanted to protect them and Newt. And that is understandable. I know they loved their parents and as I have said before, I never knew Grandma Orah Brown to be anything but kind and good.

Our stories differ on this account. Probably without legal papers on the transaction we cannot tell just who was right, but those I would normally rely on to give the truth do not agree.

Lewis also had 240 acres in Section 33, North West Quarter and the West half of the North East Quarter. This may have been his original 240 acres and homestead.

Also had 160 acres in Section 28, North East Quarter. At the time of the writing of the Atlas, c. 1885 he was in possession of 580 acres.

Apparently he was first buried at the F and AM Cemetery and later moved to the main Monroeville Cem. Not sure if the whole cemetery was moved or not. A granddaughter was also moved.

Susan,
A record of the Reidenauer family and its line of descent and branches according to the authentic account (ex Bibl Vien)of the Vienna Library: (taken from the book:"Adam and Magdalene (Munch) Ridenour and Some Related Families (Ritenour)" by Iva C. Yarlick:

The origin of the Reidenauer family is to be sought among the wild cliffs of the Rhine. In early times they lived in the Rugesian mountains, a warlike family, at the castle Shadeneck, a few miles from Koblens. They gave the castle this name because of the injuries which were wrought by them in the country round about, and particularly on the rich Rhine valley. On high grey cliffs of granite lay their castle, of which even today a few ruins may be noted.

The first man of whom we have knowledge, and who is in all probability built this castle, was Pertinax Reidenauer. He and his man at arms forced into his service such persons as could not buy their freedom. He also forced the people of the environment to help in building of his castle. This proved so diddicult, because of the high cliff, that five hundred men lost their lives in the work. His wife was Fradegunde Von Ekenen. She was beautiful of form, but just as cruel and exacting as her husband. Setting out of his fortress on the cliff, he laid waste the surrounding territory for a great space. He was killed in a hunt in 893 AD by an arrow shot by mistake.

His two sons Conrad and Williband lived on. Williband lived on the paternal estate, engaged in raising armies at the king's command. Finally, he was taken prisoner by the Wainzers and was condemned to death, but his wife, Henrietta Von Westerburg was protected, and she returned to take care of the castle, where she reared her son, Heinrich Reidenauer. He was raised according to his father's wishes.

"Abraham moved with his first wife near to Edom, VA and settled on Linville Creek about 1770 where he lives until his death. ... He owned a single tract, about 800 acres of land on Linville Creek. The copy of his deeds and will were destroyed during the Civil War when the armies of Sheridan made their raid through the Shenandoah Valley and the courthouse at Harrisonburg was destroyed by fire. ... He donated the ground for the Breneman's cemetery a short distance north of Edom, which became the most used for burial purposes of the early settlers of the community for many years. In 1898 a church was built on the ground and was named the Lindale Church, and the cemetary is now know by that name. In 1826 a church was built on another part of the estate that had belonged to him in his lifetime, and was named the Breneman's Church, and a cemetery was laid out there and goes by the name of the Breneman's cemetery.
Abraham Breneman ... has been described by his youngest son David Breneman of Cairo, Ohio as being a tall, slender man, smoothed shaved, and of a robust constitution and highly respected by the church of his choice, and by his neighbors as well. ... He died of camp fever by which he contracted by coming in contact wich soldiers who had just returned from the War of 1812. He and his first wife are buried in the Lindale cemetery."

Re: Melchior the Exile

In Reply to: Melchior the Exile by Keith W. Stump 76 of 164 Go

The following are excerpts from "The Brenneman History" by Albert H. Gerberick, Mennonite Publishing House, Scottsdale, PA 1938:

"Melchior Brenneman ["The Exile"]seems ... to have been born is Switzerland about 1631. Research in the cantonal archives at Bern seems to establish the fact that his home was at Ober-Diessbach on the north slope of the Buchhalterbert."

"From the very beginning of the Reformation there were religious leaders among the Protestants who did not believe in infant baptism, convinced that the Scripture taught that the ceremony should be postponed till riper years, when the candidate could recognize the spiritual significance of the act, the washing away of sin. In Holland and Switzerland there arose important congregations of these so-called Anabaptists. In the latter country the co-operation of Anabaptists with the great reformer Zwingli assisted greatly in the establishment of Protestantism. They later separated from him when he made it manifest that he intended to set up a state church. Throughout the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the Anabaptists (frequently called Mennonites from Menno Simons, their leader in Holland and Germany) suffered continuous persecution in Switzerland. In addition to their insistence upon adult baptism and their opposition to a state church, their refusal to take oaths or bear arms had made them objects of condemnation. Many were executed by drowning, burning and beheading, down to the martyr bishop Hans Landis in 1614. Others were sold to neighboring countries as galley-slaves. The mildest sentence was exile and confiscation of property, forbidding a return to Switzerland on pain of death."

"In the appendix it will be noted that Melchior Brenneman refused to abjure his Mennonite belief, was warned, and finally punished by imprisonment in the castle of Thun in the year 1659. We next hear of his flight to Griesheim in the year 1671, unquestionably due to the severe government mandate of 1670, which caused exiles to leave Switzerland for Germany in large numbers."

"One of the sons of Melchior Brenneman the refugee was likewise named Melchior ["The Pioneer"]. Family tradition gives the year of his birth as 1665 and the place of his birth as Canton Bern, Switzerland. Like his father, he learned the weaver's trade. He was a young man of great energy and intense religious conviction, and became a preacher in the Mennonite church, serving various communities of refugees in Rhein-Hessen and the Pfalz. He and his brother Christian were the first of the family to emigrate to America. The cause of his decision to come to the New World was the renewed persecution of his people by the Elector Palatine, after Louis XIV had overrun and conquered the land of his adoption in South Germany. The idea had, however, been long smouldering in his mind. He was a little lad when William Penn visited the Mennonite settlement where his father lived and urged the weary Swiss to settle in his new colony of Pennsylvania, where they would find peace and plenty of toleration of their beliefs."

"Tradition gives the year of his [Melchior, the Pioneer's] arrival in Pennsylvania as 1709."

Hope this answers your questions. If not, there is a Brenneman website at http://gargantua.stanford.edu/~breneman/ brenemans/history.html.

If anyone is interested, at the Allen County meuseum in Lima,Ohio, you can see the Brenneman bible. It is called the Weaver bible, however it belonged to many generations of the Brenneman family. also, if anyone needs information on North west Ohio Brennemans i may be able to help. I have many resources and i am descended from Melchoir the Pioneer.

Karen, A good place to find a lot of info on the Brenneman family is www.familytreemaker.com. Click on the Grace Olney Boggs site. Melchoir the Exile is son of Niclaus b. abt 1600 and he is son of Peter b. abt 1580. Good luck.

I show, I think four children of Melchior Brenneman, the Exile b. ca 1631 Switzerland to Worms Germany
1. John

2. Adam, who had Johannes, Katharine, a son, and Abraham

3. Melchior, the Pioneer 1665-1737 who had Christioper, Christian, John, Adam, Catharine, and Melchior Jr. (1718-1794)

4. Christian

Is this correct?

I found 2 seperate listings for children of Melchoir th exile:
1) Christian b.12-7-1656
2) John b.10-10-1658
3) Elsbeth b.6-16-1662
4) Stephen b.8-23-1663
5) Anna b.10-29-1665
6) Melchoir "the pioneer" b. 1665/68
most references put it in 1665 , which makes Anna's birth year wrong
7) Barbara b.5-8-1670
8) Adam B.~1673

I hope this helps you out

David Christian Brenneman, b. 5-10-1836, d. 2-9-1915, m. Frances Good, b. 4-5-1834, d. 3-23-1915 was the son of Christian Brenneman, b. 7-17-1793, d. 12-9-1859, m. Anna Shenk, b. 5-10-1795, d. 1-17-1867. Christian Brenneman was a farmer in Rockingham Co., VA, all his life; he lived on part of his father's estate, which was valued in 1850 at $28,000. He and his wife had 12 children: Franey, Christian, Esther, Henry, Magdalena, Martin, Lydia, Joel, Rebecca, Hannah, David C., and Michael. A portion of his will is still preserved at the court house in Harrisonburg, VA., the document being partly burned in the destruction of the old buildings by Union troops in the Civil War. Buried at Lindale Mennonite cemetery.

I have a copy of the Ridenour crest which was in a manuscript from George Fredric Ridenour. Unfortunately, I have not read on how to use my scanner to send such things e-mail. If you e-mail me, I'll send you a copy by post. This crest is from Halberts in Bath, Ohio. Translation and Interpretation: The Coat of Arms consists of a silver German Schnauzer symbolizing Germany; above the Schnauzer a blue cornflower, the national flower of Germany and naturally colored reeds symbolizing a meadow with reeds. The red background symbolizes valor and patriotism, silver symbolizes peace and nobility and blue symbolizes loyalty and splendor.

D. S. has been corrected and the date moved over and so 6-15-22 can't work for an age, but it could work for his birthday. So not sure but he may have been born in 1822, and died in 1867.

I am assuming that Peter is Christian's brother and they both moved to Rockingham, VA. Abraham then is their father. This must be a church record of some kind from the Linville/Lindale church in Edom, Rockingham Co., VA. Someone said it showed they were buried in PA. But this cannot be a PA record. Has to be a record from Virginia.

Hand written and very hard to read. I have the image in my computer. The format shows that it was a written record of those probably buried at that church and is in alphabetical order by last name. There are other "B" names on this page. I just copied those that were Brenneman, so it was not something someone did up just using the Brenneman family names.

2. MELCHIOR BRENNEMAN, JR.(6) was born on the old homestead farm of his father near New Danville, Lancaster Co., Pa., in August, 1718, and died at the same place, Apr. 19, 1794. He long survived his elder brothers, all of whom died thirty years or more before him. He married Ann Good, b. in 1722, d. in 1800, aged 78 years 3 mos. and 10 days. She was a dtr. of Jacob Good of Conestoga, who was a son of Peter Good, an immigrant to Lancaster County in 1715.

Melchior, Jr., and wife had 13 children, of whom eleven survived them: Peter, Melchior, Abraham, Isaac, Margaret, Rudolph, David, Elizabeth, Jacob, Eve, Ann, John and Henry. The parents are buried at New Danville Mennonite Church, their graves marked by slate slabs, initialed and dated.

Melchior, Jr., was a prosperous landholder and left his children at his decease well established in life. The old Brenneman homestead, as will be seen from the annexed will, went to his youngest son Henry. A portion of the original grant, together with some contiguous land, Melchior had previously deeded to his son Jacob. There is on file at Lancaster, Pa., a deed bearing date Jan. 25, 1793, in which Melchior, Jr., certified to the correctness of his father's signature to a document of the year 1717, saying that he had often seen him write his name and knew the writing to be his father's. This certification was of great value to the historian in working out the relationship of this branch of the family, as Melchior survived his brothers so long that it had been believed that he belonged to a later generation.

WILL OF MELCHIOR BRENNEMAN, JR.—1786

WILL OF MELCHIOR BRENNEMAN, JR.—1786

In the Name of God Amen. This twenty-first day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six Melchior Brenneman the elder of Conestoga Township Lancaster County and state of Pennsylvania, yeoman, being at present sick and weak in body nevertheless of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding — thanks be to God — calling unto mind the mortality of my body, and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, that is to say, Principally and first of all I recommend my soul into the hands of God, who gave it me, and my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in a Christian-like and decent manner ; and as touching such worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, devise and dispose of the same as follows, in the following manner and form.

Imprimis, it is my will and I do order in the first place that all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid off and satisfied as soon as conveniently may be after my decease.

Item, I give and bequeath unto my son Henry Brenneman, his heirs and assigns, all my plantation and tract of land situated in Conestoga Township, Lancaster County, aforesaid, adjoining to the lands of Jacob Brenneman, Adam Brenneman, deceased, Jacob Stoner and John Borgholder, containing about 125 acres and the allowance of roads, be the same more or less. To be holden by him the said Henry Brenneman his heirs and assigns forever.

New information on Duley School, District #7 in Perry Township, Allen Co., IN

The Duley School is located at the corner of Union Chapel Road and Diebold Road.

From Deb Eidson:

"I came across the building of Perry #7 school in 1896, and the article said it was a brick school. I had it listed as wood frame. They probably sided over it like the Bowser #8 school. I did pull the property card on the Duley School and it doesn't give the information on the construction and listed the year built as 1890 (usually a guestimate). It sold for $120,000 in 2004 to Quality Crafted Homes and it was a rental in 2006 when I talked to them.

46. Abraham Breneman (Melchior Breneman Jr.[23], Melchior (The Pioneer) Breneman[15], Christina Reusser[8], Steffan[7], Hans[6], Steffan[4], Steffan[2], Niclaus[1]) was born on 3 Dec 1744 in New Danville, Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania, died on 8 Mar 1815 in Linville Creek, Rockingham County, Virginia at age 70, and was buried in Lindale Cemetery. The cause of his death was Camp Fever.

General Notes: Abraham Brenneman, third son of Melchior and Anna Good Brenneman, was born in Lancaster Co., PA.

Abraham moved with his first wife near Edom, Rockingham Co. Virginia, and settled on Linville Creek about 1770 where he lived until his death March 8, 1815 at the age of 70 years, 3 months and 5 days. He was the father of 16 children and 111 grandchildren.

He owned in a single tract, about 800 acres of land on Linville Creek. The copy of his deeds and will were destroyed during the Civil War when the armies of Sheridan made their raid through the Shenandoah Valley and the courthouse at Harrisonburg was destroyed by fire. The records were so badly burnt that they could not be read.

He donated the ground for the Brenneman's cemetery a short distance north of Edom, which became the most used for burial purposes of the early settlers of the community for many years. In 1898 a church was built on the ground and was name the Lindale Church, and the cemetery is now known by that name. In 1826, a church was built on another part of the estate that had belonged to him in his lifetime, and was named the Breneman's Church, and a cemetery was laid out there and goes by the name of the Breneman's Cemetery.

Abraham Breneman, the progenitor of this large family that will be recorded in this history, has been described by his youngest son David Breneman of Cairo, Ohio, as being a tall, slender man, smooth shaved, and of a robust constitution, highly respected by the church of his choice and by his neighbors as well. It is said that he was often seen leading a funeral procession with the corpse of a child resting on the saddle before him. He died of camp fever which he contracted by coming in contact with the soldiers who had just returned from the War of 1812. He and his first wife are buried in Lindale Cemetery. He and both of his wives were Mennonites.

additional notes found on the internet:

Melchior's son Abraham Brenneman may have met the Eyman family in these early years. If so, he'd have met Magdalena Eyman, about ten years older than himself and the mother of his second wife. In 1763 Abaham wasn't quite 20 years old. He had yet to make his way in the world. By 1770 he had moved to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

Abraham had been born on the family homestead that his father had inherited from his grandfather. He was the third of thirteen children, and therefore among those expected to find property elsewhere. In this family, as in so many of German stock it seems that it was often the youngest son who inherited the homestead. Abraham and his older brothers Peter and Melchior visited Donegal and Derry Townships in the northwest where ancestral lands were in the hands of cousins. The brothers seem to have settled there in 1768 though Abraham, perhaps wanting more land, went to Virginia. They seem to have lived a short time in Page and Augusta counties before settling on a farm four miles below New Market, near Pennypacker's Mill on Smith Creek. Ultimately, Brenneman wound up with an 800 acre tract of land near Linville Creek. About 1769 it's thought that Abraham had married the mother of his first eight children.

Their home at Edom in Rockingham County was in an area with farmland of the highest quality and deepest loam. As committed Mennonites, the Brennemans provided lands for the Lindale Mennonite church and cemetery.

There seems to be some disagreements among Brenneman genealogists about the first wife of Abraham. The quite comprehensive 1938 genealogy by Albert Gerberich suggested that Abraham's first wife was Barbara and that she died about 1777. More recent work by Helen Harness suggests that the first wife was Maria Reiff, who lived until 1788. By 1790, Abraham had married Magdalena Shank, the daughter of Adam Shank and Magdalena Eyman, who had also moved to Rockingham from the Lancaster area. Abraham produced an unusual number of Brennemans, with 8 children by each of two wives. All tolled, he seems to have had 111 grandchildren. On census and tax records between 1758 and 1792 Abraham is shown as owning a dwelling and 3 other houses as well as 6 horses. In 1775 he served in the Shenandoah Valley militia in Captain Jacob Holeman's company. (It's thought that most of his brothers served in the militia, in striking contrast to the rigid Mennonite attitude of non-participation in warfare. In about 1800, Abraham built a stone burr gristmill, Turner's Mill, which was still in operation in 1976. The solid brick walls measure 22 inches and are 5 bricks thick. Near the mill today stands a gorgeous old old brick residence. It was likely built by Melchior, a son of Abraham, in about 1847

During early days in Rockingham, Mennonite church services were often held in the Brenneman home. Abraham developed a family cemetery just north of Edom which was used by many early settlers and which became known as the Lindale Mennonite Cemetery. On another part of his estate, two miles southwest of Edom, a church was built in 1826 named the Brenneman church and also houses a Brenneman cemetery.

Abraham was a hard-working and prominent farmer of the community. A quote from his youngest son says that "he was a tall, slender man, smooth-shaved, and of a robust constitution… He was highly respected by the church and by his neighbors… He was at times seen leading a funeral procession on horseback with the corpse of a child resting in the saddletree before him". Abraham died at his homestead at the age of 70 years in 1815. It's believed that he died of typhus caused by coming into contact with soldiers returning from the war of 1812.

Eyman Brenneman Shank Connections – Paths to Rockingham and Ohio

The Brenneman and Eyman association is ancient, stemming from the Middle Ages since both were from Oberdeissbach, a small mountain village overlooking the Thun castle and sea near Steffisburg and Berne. Melchior, a weaver by trade was born there in 1633. Though his parents had him baptized in the official "Reformed" church, Melchior became sympathetic with Anabaptist beliefs. Because of these beliefs he was taken to court and imprisoned in the Thun castle dungeon in 1659. He was set free after perhaps several years, but there are indications that against court orders he not only attended Reformed preaching services but met secretly with Anabaptists.

Berne Anabaptists

In 1670 the government of Canton Berne passed a severe mandate decreeing that all Anabaptists should be deported from all church parishes. This and other severe mandates were unpopular and not fully enforced. Anabaptists also brought pressure on themselves in refusing to take oaths of military service when commanded to do so.

Such pressures found Melchior leaving all his lands and property to flee with his family in 1671. The destination, as for so many exiles was the Palatine in Germany where following the devastations of a 30-year war, noblemen tolerated Anabaptist farmers and settlers who could improve estates. By January of 1672 there was a colony of Swiss Mennonnite refuges living in the town of Griesheim, twenty mildes northwest of the city of Worms. This rather destitute colony has some financial support from a Mennonite congregation of Amsterdam. Among the small colony were several to recur in Eyman family history. The Brennemans, the Shenck/Shanks, and of course the Eymans. The relationships between these families seems to have stayed fast into the new world. Melchior "the exile" Brenneman and his family were among the exiles visited by William Penn in 1677, offering them a haven in his Pennsylvania. Melchior Jr. was 9 years old at the time. The Brennimans, and then the Shanks, seem to have made it to America quite early, with Eymans making passage a bit later.

Migration

In about 1710, Melchior's sons, Christian and Melchior, immigrated with their families to America. Arriving in Philadephia, they probably stayed with friends in Germantown for a period until land was secured and cleared. By 1715, Melchior "the pioneer" had secured warrants for 500 acres of land from Willam Penn at what amounted to 32 cents per acre. This unsettled wilderness was in an area soon to become known as Conestoga Township of Lancaster County.. New settlers were arriving; German farmers for the most part, with their horses, cattle, and hogs needing to be fenced off from the corn fields of the local Indians. This was an era of peace and harmony where little red faces and little white faces played with one another in the neighboring wigwams. Melchior continued adding acreage to his properties; first lots of 200 acres, then 90, 125, and then 700 acres along the Susquehannah River from a famous French Indian trader. Lands were set aside for a Mennonite Church - the New Danville Mennonite Church. His will, witnessed by Michael Shank, divided his far flung lands among five sons, leaving his son Melchior (III) with the homestead lands in Conestoga Township near the town of New Danville..

Melchior III had been born 1718 and was only 18 when his father died. When married, he was to receive the original160 acre plantation and would be a prominent citizen of Conestoga all of his life. Melchior was a prosperous farmer who lived his entire life on his father's land. He was a man of deep religious fervor and untiring love for manual labor and thrift. Very early in life he was ordained a Mennonite minister. He organized the congregation and preached the first sermons in Good's Meeting House, the oldest house of worship of his sect in Donegal. He was a religious writer who composed numerous books and pamphlets some of which are still preserved. He also became quite a large landlord. To the original acreage he'd inherited, which included not only the homestead but 300 acres back from the river in Donegal, Reverent Melchior added 310 acres along the Susquehannah and a number of smaller plots in Donegal leading to over 950 acres. He ran a grist mill at Ridgeville, operated a distillery at Locust Grove, had an interest in a ferry which transported people across to the York County side. During the Revolutionary War he assisted in transporting supplies to Washington's army and his wagons carried military stores to the victors at Monmouth Court House.

A Mennonite for War?

This was a Mennonite of quite a different stripe. Deeply religious, his support of war was very unusual. All of Melchior's sons served in the militia, which is a striking contrast to the rigid Mennonite attitude of non-participation in warfare. They were probably estranged from their church on this account, for most of them were married by Lutheran or Reformed ministers, and their children generally associated with other Protestant sects. One of the most loyal of Mennonites produced descendants, 90% of whom were no longer associated with his church.

The Reverend Melchior resided in a large stone house on property which he had bought from an Englishman. On the property were a log house, a small, and one large stone house which were still standing in 1895, with the stone houses being occupied.

He'd have been about 45 when he met Ulrich Eyman and his wife Maria, newly arriving immigrants from the Rheinland. Little is known for certain of the relationship between Eyman and Brenneman, though it was one of trust. Ulrich Eyman died within a year or so of arriving, and in the absence of a will, Melchior played an important role with the widow in settling the estate matters of what seems to be a merchant. Surviving him were his second wife, Maria Agatha, his daughter Magdalena (born in 1737 inAlsenbrück, Pfalz), a son Christian (by his first wife, Maria Fuchs), and the infant Johan Heinrich ("Henry"), who was fated to become a blacksmith in Lampeter, a Revolutionary Soldier, settler in Rockingham, and squire in Richland Township of Fairfield County, Ohio. Henry married Mary Sager and had most of his children baptized at the First Reformed Church in Lancaster.

Melchior transferred a number of his main properties to a son-in-law in 1784. Retiring from active life he divided over 800 acres of farms among his sons and sons-in-law, and moved from the large to the small stone house where he resided until his last days. He lived a life of humility with few worldy goods as he watched his children and grandchildren prosper with the lands he had made ready for them. He wrote his will at the age of 83, together with his 77 year old wife in 1806. The unique will was witnesses by Abraham Brenneman, the husband of Magdalena Eyman Shank.

Abraham Brenneman

Melchior's son Abraham Brenneman may have met the Eyman family in these early years. If so, he'd have met Magdalena Eyman, about ten years older than himself and the mother of his second wife. In 1763 Abaham wasn't quite 20 years old. He had yet to make his way in the world. By 1770 he had moved to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

In 1775 he served in the Shenandoah Valley militia in Captain Jacob Holeman's company. (It's thought that most of his brothers served in the militia, in striking contrast to the rigid Mennonite attitude of non-participation in warfare. In about 1800, Abraham built a stone burr gristmill, Turner's Mill, which was still in operation in 1976. The solid brick walls measure 22 inches and are 5 bricks thick. Near the mill today stands a gorgeous old old brick residence. It was likely built by Melchior, a son of Abraham, in about 1847

During early days in Rockingham, Mennonite church services were often held in the Brenneman home. Abraham developed a family cemetery just north of Edom which was used by many early settlers and which became known as the Lindale Mennonite Cemetery. On another part of his estate, two miles southwest of Edom, a church was built in 1826 named the Brenneman church and also houses a Brenneman cemetery.

Abraham was a hard-working and prominent farmer of the community. A quote from his youngest son says that "he was a tall, slender man, smooth-shaved, and of a robust constitution... He was highly respected by the church and by his neighbors... He was at times seen leading a funeral procession on horseback with the corpse of a child resting in the saddletree before him". Abraham died at his homestead at the age of 70 years in 1815. It's believed that he died of typhus caused by coming into contact with soldiers returning from the war of 1812. Following the death of Abraham in 1815, Magdalena moved with all of her children to Fairfield Ohio.

The Schenk's, like the Eymans, migrated to America from the Pfalz, after having left the parishes of the Berne area. Many Schenks descending from Michael <1590> became Anabaptist and were in trouble with local authorities and their parishes. In 1671 at the age of 81 it's thought that he was driven from the Emmenthal valley along with many others. According to Mennonite archives in Amsterdam, it's thought that 643 Mennonites were driven from this valley in a 2-month period. In 1672, Michael and his family were refuges at Ibersheim Germany, as were Eyman ancestors. Michael soon died in Gemany though his sons Christian and Michael both made it to America. They arrived in 1717, having come with a group of 363 Mennonites who left Germany, traveled down the Rhine River, and boarded sailing ships. About one month after arrival, Christian took out a warrant for 530 acres in what is now Strasburg Township of Lancaster County.

Michael Schenk, the first child of Christian and his wife Barbara had been born in the Palatinates and was 22 years old when his parents immigrated to America and settled in the Pequa area near Conestoga where many other Mennonite families were located. Michael and Mary had seven sons and one daughter. While most sons seem to have stayed in the Conestoga area or migrated to nearb y townships, Martic or nearby York County PA, Adam, born about 1737 in Conestoga migrated to migrated to Manchester Township in York County of PA. Most of his and Magdalena's ten children were born there between 1769 and 1782. In 1784, the lure of land seems to have drawn the Shanks to Rockingham. The York county farm was sold and land was bought in Rockingham from a John Schenk in 1785, and from a Michael Schenk in 1786. Two new children were born to the Shanks in Virginia. The Shanks had ten children, and among them was a Magdalena born in 1769 in Manchester Township of York Co., PA. This daughter became the second wife of Abraham Brenneman. Magdalena Shank died in 1802, a year before her husband Adam. Both are thought to be buried besides one another in the Mennonite cemetery in Edom.

His grandson, Timothy H. Brenneman, of Goshen, Ind., says of his grandfather that he was a fine old gentleman. This was the unanimous verdict of his neighbors. He was a good reader, and he often read to his family out of a mammoth volume of the "Martyrs' Mirror," a German classic, published at Ephrata, Pa., in 1814. His son, Daniel, fell heir to the old book, which was destroyed by fire in 1894. Henry was also a good footman, having twice made the round trip over the mountains between Fairfield Co., O., and Rockingham Co., Va., his boyhood home. He was a loyal Mennonite, and his children continued in that faith.

A portion of his will is still preserved in the court house at Harrisonburg, Va., the document being partly burned in the destruction of the old building by the Union troops in the Civil War. He reared a large family of children, who became the heads of large families.

Hubert and Ann Roth Brower and family apparently came from Switzerland. They lived in Neuwied, Germany at the time they embarked for America. They traveled north on the Rhine River through Holland enroute to Philadelphia, as was the frequent route of many coming from their area of present day Germany.

If they were Mennonite as hinted below, there was great persecution in Switzerland and many areas of Germany. Teh Hugenot pesecution under Louis IV in France began when he revoked the Edict of Nantes in 1685 and continued during their early lives. Louis IV heated things up from 1724-64, right before the Browers left for America 4 May 1726.

William Penn invited many living in the German lowlands to come settle his Pennsylvania, a haven of religious tolerance for its day. Please read other stories of our relatives (the BRENNEMANs /BRANIMANs, particularly Melchoir Brenneman) elsewhere in my Tree.

The letter from Pauline I received in July gives the birth dates of the 2 following people to be the same: Jan. 4, 1983:

Danielle Titus married Paul Klinker 6-4-2005, her birth date is 1-4-83.
Valerie Hastings married Brendan Kelly on 6-29-2007, her birth date is 1-4-83.

Can either or both of you confirm this on your end & let me know if the dates are the same? Otherwise I will need to write Pauline & wait for a response - thanks!

Sorry I didn't respond same day you emailed me Betty - some days I just play it lazy & that must have been one of my lazy days, so now I'm back on schedule, ha.

I'm not sure. I was having a problem getting into my list of contacts to make a change for your new email addr & that's what came up after I added you. And somehow, I got your old email addr off, not sure how. The dumb companies keep changing their formats just when one gets used to one way. I have a list of questions to ask so will add yours. On the top line of this email page, there is a Windows Live column, which says: Home, Devices, SkyDrive, Mobile, Downloads, All Services - that I can select, to read. I'm illiterate in lots of things having to do with the computer.

Are you continuing to be fairly healthy? Surely hope so. I do well for a few days, then my hip, or back, or leg hurts, so now I get out the heating pad & lay on it & most of the hurts go away for a while at least. Didn't tell you I got a blister on my behind just before I flew into Ft Wayne as I fell asleep on the heating pad! It's finally healed up!

How are you in getting into the Voyles book? I've checked out quite a bit of it, keep finding little errors, but nothing drastic. There is so much info there! And quite a bit that still isn't there. Have you thought about sending Hattie's family info to them? Have you emailed them to discuss it? Did you consider going to the reunion?

I have a couple new babies to add to your info:

Cathy's granddaughter, Sarisa, has a baby girl, b. Aug 18, 3 wks early, weighing about 6 lb, 3 oz or close to that, her name is Zayla Nicole. I don't know if she has Sarisa'a last name or the last name of the father, I know nothing about the father. The school has Sarisa set up to attend 3 hrs per day so she can keep up with graduating with her roommates.

Chris, Harold's oldest daughter, has a new granddaughter, with Bill Hood being the father. Her name is Madilyn Patricia Hood, b. Aug. 10, 2010 (Norma's birthdate).

Pat called earlier this pm, she & Harold have gone to their friends' 60th anniversary. I can check in with them later on Sarisa's baby's last name.

My daughter is kept busy where she works, now on five 8-hr days (sometimes six) instead of three 12-hr days at the casino in Cripple Creek as a cashier. Bruce & Paula were here recently for a surprise 80th birthday celebration of her mother, so I picked them up at the airport on a Fri eve, they flew home the following Mon. So have seen both my kids during last 2 mos. Don't have any plans to go to Colorado, guess I'm content to "stay at home".

Weather last couple wks runs from 105 to 110 each day seems like, had rain & wind about 3 nights ago, water came up onto my front porch/patio, but so far has never come into my garage, thank goodness, more rain possible Sun or Mon, so we're doing well this year as to total water.

I think it's past my lunch time, write when you can. Have you talked to Lois? I contacted her twice but not lately on changes to their family tree - zip.

Hugs, Ilene

foolish to me. So want to clean out some of my things and hope that someone can find a use for them. I bought too many bargains while working. And they were bargains, but now I cannot use them. I don't make clothes for myself anymore either and that is mostly what I have. Fabrics for blouses and dresses. Well, I have bored you enough for now and so just wanted to wish you a happy birthday and hope you are enjoying your weather. Things are just about the same here .... not much excitement, but I enjoy calm, peaceful days too. Love, Betty
